

I fully support any effort to force wireless carriers to include all fees in their rate plan, rather than add them to each bill as line item charges. This is a deceptive tactic and it will increase as companies compete for the lowest rate plans. They will continue to add fees to keep their rate plans competitive.